Grade 5 Reading Comprehension Worksheet

THE LARK AND THE FARMER

Read the story. Then answer the questions.

In a field of wheat there was a Lark's nest, and in the nest there were four young Larks almost large enough to fly. One morning when the mother Lark was going out for something to eat she said to her little ones: "The wheat is now ripe enough to be cut, so keep wide awake, and when I come home tell me all that you hear." The little Larks promised that they would do so. She was hardly out of sight when the Farmer who owned the field came with his son. "John," he said, "it is time that this wheat was cut. Go to our neighbors and ask them to come tomorrow and help us." When the old Lark came home the young ones told her what they had heard; and they begged her to move them out of the field. "There is no hurry," she said. "If he waits for his neighbors he will have to wait a long time." The next day while the mother Lark was away, the Farmer and his son came again. "John, did you ask the neighbors to come?" said the Farmer. "Yes, sir," said John. "They all promised to be here early," said the Farmer. "since our neighbors have failed us, we must call in our kinsfolk and ask them to come tomorrow and help us." The young Larks told their mother all about it. "Mother," they said, "Our wings are strong enough; let us fly away right now." "Don't be in a hurry," said the mother. "If the Farmer waits for his kinsfolk, the wheat will not be cut tomorrow." She went out again the next day. Towards noon the Farmer and his son came into the field. "The grain is so ripe that it is all falling down and going to waste and since neither our friends nor our kinsfolk will help us, we must do the work ourselves. Let us go home and get everything ready, so that we can begin before sunrise in the morning." The old Lark came home quite early that day, and the little Larks told her what they had heard. "Now, indeed, it is time for us to be off," she said. "Shake your wings and get ready to fly; for when a man makes up his mind to do a thing himself, it is pretty sure to be done."
